

ELLIE

THE GIRAFFE

Once there was a little baby giraffe.
Her name was Ellie. She woke up in an icy white and cold place. The place was Antarctica. She was so cold that frozen tears came down her eyes.

The only warm thing was her heart.
Then she met a little penguin who brought her to a warm little igloo. Then she realized that the little penguin was her best friend from kindergarden.

The little penguin gave her some warm clothes and Ellie went back to searching for her home. Since it was Easter the penguin also gave her an Easter egg. After a week, Ellie was so hungry that she had to eat the eggs that her best friend the little penguin gave her. Her heart was frozen. She was so cold that she couldn't go on.

She fell on the snow. For hours
she just lied there. Until a mom, dad and a little brother came. It was her family.

They woke her up. After a while Ellie's angel came and said since it is Easter I will grant you one wish. Ellie said "The only thing I want is my family forever"

with me and to go home with my family" And home you go, the angel said. And the wish did come true they were together forever.
